Motion Pictures of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

After several weeks' effort Manager Porter, of the Paris Grand, has at last secured the moving pictures of Uncle Tom's Cabin, and they will be produced at the Grand tomorrow (Saturday) night.

These pictures are the Vitagraph Company's special feature. Among the many hundred scenes may be mentioned the escape of Eliza across the frozen Ohio; the removal of Uncle Tom from his old Kentucky home; the affection of little Eva for Uncle Tom; the purchase of Uncle Tom by St. Clair; the appearance of Topsy in the story and death of Little Eva; the sale of Uncle Tom to Simon Legree; the escape of Cassie and the death of Uncle Tom;

The greatest and most realistic presentation of this famous classic drama ever attempted. All the scenes are startlingly vivid and life like. A real cotton field, a genuine levee scene, real boats and the river of ice on which Eliza escapes are genuine. The entire production is made by the best company of moving picture actors in America.

The price of admission will be ten cents to all parts of the house. The first performance will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Maine Goes "Wet" by Small Majority.

Complete official returns from the special election when the State of Maine voted on the question of the constitutional prohibitory amendment as canvassed by the Governor and Council Monday, showed a majority of twenty-votes in favor of the repeal. Various discrepancies were found in the official returns as compared with the tabulations compiled by the Secretary of State's office. The latter indicated a majority for repeal of 136.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, Liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

Judge O'Rear as a Sorry Joker.

As the campaign progresses Judge O'Rear is losing his vigor and originality. His elasticity is gone; his daring is a thing of the past; instead of being aggressive, he is in a corner with his back to the wall, fighting a hopeless battle. His first speech was a gatling gun filled with bristling interrogation points, which was designed to impale and overthrow Governor McCreary, but the Democratic nominee answered every question promptly, and sent a quiver full blade at O'Rear.

What did the Judge do? Why he has been dodging ever since like a duck in a hail storm. Governor McCreary asked him if he endorsed Taft's vetoes of the bill reducing the tariff on wool and cotton and the farmers free list bill. Judge O'Rear's first answer was "To tell the truth, I have not read the tariff, and I have not had time to read his vetoes." But when the Democratic speakers and the press got through riddling that absurd statement, he was sorry he made it, and began to search around for a new excuse. He thought he found a better one, and here it is:

In his speech at Carlisle he said that the endorsement of President Taft and his administration by the Republican State platform meant nothing; that it was only a bouquet, mere pleasure, and that nobody need take it seriously; that so far as he was concerned he approved the good things of Taft's administration, and disapproved the bad ones. What do our readers think of that exhibition of dodging and deep-diving on the part of the fearless leader of the Kentucky Republicans, who claims to be the only man who is sincere and honest, and worthy to be relied on? Can you find a match for it anywhere in the history of politics?

He writes an endorsement of the Taft administration in his platform, and when he finds that the people have repudiated Taft, and will have none of him, he says it was all a joke; that these little paper flowers grow over the garden wall of politics, and have neither perfume nor serious purpose.

What are the other jokes in your platform, Judge, chief of jesters and prince of humorists?

Is the county unit plank a joke? Is the "corrupt lobby" plank only a mirth-provoking paragraph? Is the "honest primary" plank just a poke in the ribs? Is all this high sounding platform of principles a page torn out of an almanac, written to amuse the candidate himself, and to give the sorely burdened taxpayer, going beneath the heavy hand of Willson's tax gatherer, the merry Ha, Ha?

Not a Wonder.

Democrats must realize that a vote under the rooster this year means a vote for Legislators who will name the next United States Senator. If the Democrats win Ollie James will represent Kentucky at Washington, when the great battle for the reduction of the tariff is to be fought. If the Republicans carry the Legislature Congressman Langley or Congressman Powers will be chosen Senator. Is it any wonder that Judge O'Rear does not want to discuss national issues?

Helped the Growers.

The tobacco growers of Kentucky know who their friends are. They have never asked a favor at the hands of the Democrats that it has not been granted. Every beneficial act on the Statute Books was placed there by Democrats. The Republican party is the mother of trusts. It gave them birth, and has nurtured them for years at the expense of the people. This includes the tobacco trust which has oppressed and impoverished the farmer of Kentucky.

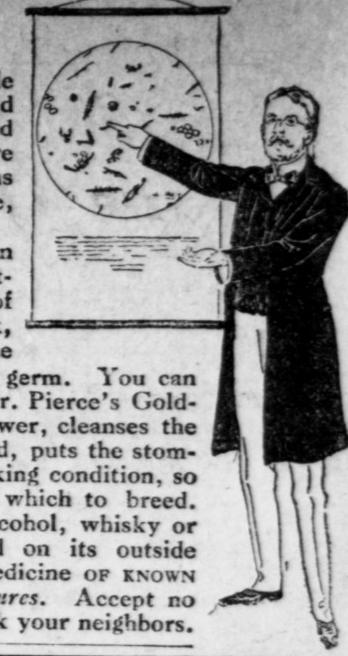

Deed Filed in Nicholas Court.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dundon, of this city, entered for record in the office of the county clerk of Nicholas county, at Carlisle Monday a deed for 151 acres of ground which is conveyed to John T. and James M. Dundon, children of Mrs. Dundon. The deed was made by Mrs. Mary Ritchie Turley, an aunt of Mrs. Dundon, and was executed on November 30, 1910.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terror it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed By a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

The Antique Desk

IMPOSSIBLE; I don't believe it, Marcia."

"It's true," persisted Dorothy.

"Harold arrested! How terrible!"

"It wasn't his fault. Didn't you hear about the antique desk Mrs. Newell sent them for a wedding present?"

"Not a word," answered Marcia.

"It was a beauty; all hand-carved mahogany. Their apartment was furnished in accordance with that desk and not Harold's income. Jessica noticed one of the panels was loose. 'Don't worry your pretty head about it,' Harold told her; 'We'll send it to Macken's furniture store and have it repaired.'

"Did Mrs. Newell know it was damaged when she bought it?" interrupted Marcia.

"No, not that; but worse."

"They were giving their first dinner party. Jessica, who is always a human icicle, keeping cool, calm and collected under all circumstances, for once was flurried. She was sure the roast would not be done enough, or that it would be too well done; that the bouillon would be served too cold and that the iced tomatoes would not be chilled sufficiently, but everything went along fine until the last course, when two officers appeared upon the scene, with warrants to arrest Jessica's husband."

"How awful! How embarrassing! I've been married ten years and my husband has never been arrested."

"You're luckier than Jessica. A few of the guests went along to give bail for him. Jessica was in hysterics, asking all at once: 'What would the neighbors think if they saw him leave with the officers? How could they keep a maid if the girl knew about his arrest? Would it be in all the papers illustrated with his picture?" When Harold returned two hours later he assured her that he had treated all the officers and reporters, so there would be no danger of publicity."

"Why was he arrested?"

"You see, that desk was an heirloom much valued by a family named Houghton. When the Houghtons were abroad last summer their house was ransacked and among other articles taken was this desk. Detectives had searched far and near for it, but could find no trace. When it appeared at Mackens, one of the clerks, who is a friend of Mrs. Houghton's daughter Amy, recognized the desk and traced it to the Carletons, and issued the warrant of his own accord for the arrest."

"But how did Mrs. Newell come across it?"

"After she read the morning paper she immediately rushed over to Jessica's to confess the truth. Upon receiving her invitation she vowed and declared 'that her present would outshine all the others.' After searching the city for something unique and handsome, one day she accompanied a poor woman to a pawn shop to redeem some article for her. Her surprise was great at seeing such a valuable piece of furniture in that place. The proprietor hesitated and did not seem anxious to sell, but finally let her have it for $75. She sent a private expressman for it, had it cleaned and polished, thinking none would be the wiser as to where she purchased it."

"Jessica immediately returned it to the rightful owner with a note of explanation."

"Did Mrs. Newell send them anything else?"

"I don't know; she sailed suddenly for Europe a few days later, but I don't think she will invest in any more antiques."

"Did you think the clerk received any reward?"

"Yes; his engagement has been announced to Miss Houghton."

Joan of Arc's Sword.

A sword in the Dijon museum has just been identified as that used by Joan of Arc and presented to her by Charles VII. of France. On one side of the hilt, says the London Mail, is engraved a figure kneeling before a cross, and the inscription: "Charles VII.", while the other side bears the name "Voucouleurs". The sword also bears the arms of France and of the town of Orleans, and the date 1419.

Japanese Vegetable Oils.

The vegetable oils made and well-known in Japan are sesame, Torreya nuffera, beech, peanut, mustard, rape-seed, perilla, Elaeococca cordata, Op-halotaxus drupeacea, camellia, tea seed, hempseed, spurge-wort, sumac and oil of wild Paulownia imperialis. Inquiries were made of numerous dealers in these oils concerning a chrysanthemum oil, but none seemed to know of it.

Danger.

Elopement is becoming highly popular in certain circles in America, young couples rushing off to distant states to get married without the knowledge of their parents. "In many instances, we gather," says a writer in the London Evening News, "the greatest secrecy has to be observed for fear that the parents might hear of the projected match and give their consent."

The funeral services were held from the Catholic church in this city Tuesday morning conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. Burial in the Paris Catholic cemetery.

MATRIMONIAL.

The marriage of Miss Mary Hedges Clay to Mr. William Adams Grimes was quietly celebrated Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sallie B. Hedges, on Duncan avenue at 7:30 o'clock, Elder Carey E. Morgan, of the Christian church, officiating.

The wedding came in the nature of a surprise to the friends of this popular couple, and while their intentions were generally known, even their most intimate friends were not aware that the time of the wedding was so close at hand.

The ceremony was said in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties, and was performed by Elder Morgan in his usual beautiful and impressive manner.

The bride is a graduate of the Bourbon Female College, being a member of the class of 1911, and is an unusually bright and attractive young lady, with many accomplishments and admired by a large circle of friends.

Mr. Grimes at present holds a position with the Agricultural Bank as a bookkeeper with that establishment.

He is a graduate of the Paris High School and of Transylvania University, Lexington. He is popular and enjoys a wide acquaintance, being held in the highest esteem by the large number of friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for Lexington in an automobile from which point they started on their honeymoon, without imparting to anyone their destination. They will be at home after October 1, 130 Duncan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Duley, of Flemingsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Jos. P. Wood, of Maysville. The wedding will take place about the middle of October.

FREE REMEDY HELPS CHILDREN

Many a mother has learned of a way of avoiding sickness in her family, especially among the children by the use of a free sample bottle of the famous laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This offer of the doctor's to send a free sample bottle has been responded to by thousands of women in all parts of America.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a truly wonderful laxative and especially adapted to the needs of babies and children because it is pleasant to taste and no child will refuse it. Then, it is mild and never gripes. It is all that a child's remedy should be, though it is a good laxative for the whole family because it is effective at all ages. It is not dynamic like salts, pills and powerful cathartics, which should not be given to children under any circumstances.

Nine times out of ten when a child complains and you don't know exactly what is the matter with it, it needs a laxative—its bowels are constipated. Syrup Pepsin will correct the trouble, tone up the child and soon it will be well again—wonderful results have been secured with Syrup Pepsin over night.

You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents or a dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size, but you are invited to make a test of it first at the doctor's expense. Send him your address today and he will send you a free sample bottle direct to your home. Then when satisfied buy it of your favorite druggist.

For the free sample address him, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

THOUGHT SHE WAS THE BOSS

Amusing Finish of Kansas City Woman Who Gave Crossing Policeman Orders From Her Auto.

Kansas City, Mo.—One of the patrolmen at Eleventh and Walnut streets, in the retail center, who was endeavoring to enforce a new crossing rule for vehicles, raised his hand and caused the chauffeur of a large limousine to stop the car the other day. The woman in the motor car leaned forward and said petulantly to her chauffeur:

"Go ahead, go ahead; don't stop here!"

The chauffeur started, and the policeman, E. O. Bjorkbach, raised his hand again, stopping him.

The woman leaned forward again and said:

"This chauffeur takes orders from me. How dare you countermand them?"

The policeman raised him helmet and explained that maybe at home she gave the orders to the chauffeur, but that at Eleventh and Walnut streets he gave orders. The woman lost her temper. From a silver case she drew a card and pencil and took the policeman's number.

"I shall tell my husband, and he will attend to your case with your superiors," she said indignantly.

The next day the same woman appeared at the same corner in her limousine. She beckoned to the policeman from the car.

"I owe you an apology," she said. "I told my husband, just as I threatened. He told me you ought to have arrested me."

INCUBATORS AID PIG GROWER

Pennsylvania Farmer's Experiment With Young Porkers Saves Their Lives—Had Been Chilled.

Hinesdale, Pa.—Incubators as an aid to pig culture are enthusiastically recommended by E. H. Karslake, a successful farmer who resides a few miles north of here in Wayne county. An experiment conducted by Karslake converted him, and it is probable that puny little pigs ushered into being on his farm hereafter will get their first glimpse of the world through the glass of his incubator.

Ninety chicks had been removed from the incubator just before the birth of a litter of pigs, two of which were chilled and appeared to be dying. He placed the small patients in the warm, cozy box, and in a short time they were kicking and squealing lustily. In the meantime other members of the new family showed signs of being chilled, and they, too, were placed in the incubator.

Karslake had no time to remove the eggshells and other debris from the incubator, and when two of his children returned from school and peeped in they saw something that caused them to yell and run helter-skelter to their mother. It was hard to convince them that the pigs had not been hatched from the chickens' eggs.

The patients were removed from the improvised hospital the next day, and they are now in excellent health.

PIGS LOSE THEIR FAT JOBS

New Haven Tries Hogs as Garbage Removers, but They Cost Him More Than Human Workers.

New Haven, Conn.—With grunts of dissatisfaction it was announced here that New Haven's elaborate plan for the economical disposition of garbage has proved a failure.

On January 1st last the city lawmakers, on looking over the bills for collecting and disposing of the garbage, were amazed to note that the cost of the work was greater than, in their estimation, it should be. They met in solemn conclave and decided, after a lengthy discussion, to buy a drove of pigs, fatten them on the pieces de resistance that had survived meal hours, and sell the husky porkers.

The pigs fell into the plan enthusiastically, but when the aldermen got together they found that the experiment was costing at the rate of $54,000 a year, most of which represented the investment in the pigs.

NEW WHEAT IS PERFECTED

Federal Expert, After Four Years of Experimenting, Makes Important Discovery in Chule.

Chico, Cal.—After four years experimenting at the national introduction gardens near this city a variety of wheat known as chule, introduced into the United States from Turkestan, H. E. Blanchard, western cereal expert of the department of agriculture, has succeeded in separating a pure white seed from the mixture which has contaminated it practically ever since its introduction. In tests just completed the new wheat has averaged fifteen to twenty bushels more to the acre than the white Australian variety, which is accepted as standard by the farmers of the west. Mr. Blanchard considers the segregation of the new grain one of the greatest forward steps in wheat culture in many years.

Gets 175-Pound Swordfish.

Avalon, Cal.—A. W. McNeal of Cincinnati, fishing with Captain Danielson, brought in the second swordfish of the season, which weighed 175 pounds. The angler was only compelled to fight his catch for thirty-three minutes, which is probably the record time for landing a fish of this kind.

My Doctor Said

"Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. Three Paris Churches as Store Houses.

Three deserted and abandoned church buildings where in the long ago gathered scores of worshippers to listen to the words of wisdom that fell from the lips of the most renowned preachers of their day, now stand in this city as silent testimonials to the march of progress, and the necessity of more commodious quarters.

The recent unions of the two Presbyterian congregations of Paris doomed the old home of the First Presbyterian congregation on the corner of Pleasant and Fourth streets, and it has for many months been occupied as a musical instrument storeroom, and as a private music school. The pulpit furniture, benches, and the old bell, which had been in use for sixty-three years, were sent as a donation from the Presbyterians of Paris to Buckhorn, twenty miles from Jackson, and installed in the Presbyterian church there. The old building was erected in 1845, being the fourth building erected here by the First Presbyterian congregation since the establishment of the faith in Paris. It was occupied by the Federal troops as a hospital for a short period during the Civil War. A war claim of $1,700 was recently allowed by the Government.

The old Christian church on the corner of Main and Eighth streets, once the home of the largest and wealthiest church congregation in the city, has been used since the erection of the new building on High street as a convention hall, seed storage warehouse, auction room, bowling alley, skating rink, and more recently as a moving picture theater. A few days ago it passed into the hands of a local commission firm who after remodeling the structure will move into the building. The building was erected in 1858, and was dedicated in June, 1859. The most famous pulpit orators of this powerful religious sect have preached within its walls.

The old Baptist church on the corner of Main and Sixth streets, was erected in 1867-8, and was abandoned a little over a year ago, when a handsome stone and brick building of modern design was erected near the corner of Main and Tenth streets. The old building was sold to a New York firm, who intended replacing it with a modern three story business house, but the matter is still in abeyance.

They stand like lonely sentinels, still guardians of glorious memories of past greatness and as reminders of bold truism that "The old must give way to the new."

SINGING TO CATTLE

Effect of Human Voice Is Soothing, Says Ranchman.

"Chapo" Bedecked Puncher of Olden Days Has Passed With the "Gun-man," Declares W. H. Gray, a Texas Veteran.

St. Louis, Mo.—"Singing cattle to sleep at a round-up is not an uncommon occurrence," said W. H. Gray, Civil war veteran, real estate dealer and owner of a cattle ranch seventeen miles west of Amarillo, Tex., to a group of friends on his return recently from the Lone Star state.

"We have a round-up on my ranch about twice a year. The cattle do not sleep a human being for perhaps months at a time, and as a result are pretty wild," continued Mr. Gray. "The cowboys form a large circle and gradually begin to drive the cattle in. When the different herds are driven into one large circle the work of branding begins.

"A round-up, however, sometimes lasts for two weeks or more, and the task of keeping the cattle together is not an easy one. At night they become restless and if they are allowed to move too much a stampede is likely.

"The method of keeping the cattle quiet was discovered in a unique way several years ago. During one of the round-ups the cattle were more than ordinarily restless. A large force of cowboys were kept guarding the circle despite the fact that they had all helped with the branding during the day. The next day the work was not done half so well because of the loss of sleep from which the men suffered.

"That evening one of the cowboys who had been with us only a few months and who had come from the east rode out and began to circle the cattle. The other men were eating supper and, being lonesome, the easterner began singing a melodious tune. After a few minutes a cow dropped down on her side to sleep, followed by her calf. One by one the others prepared to rest for the night, and within a half hour there was no possibility of a stampede and no need of a heavy guard. The other cowboys finished their supper and, mounting their horses, went out to begin the tedious task of watching the cattle. When they arrived they saw that most of the cattle were lying down, so they withdrew a few yards to watch the animals and their partner, who was still riding around the circle singing.

"When told later on of the feat he had accomplished the cowboy was angry, believing that he was being 'joshed,' but soon he was convinced there was no joke, and now instead of throwing a heavy guard around the cattle one of the men simply rides around for about half an hour and sings and the cattle go to sleep.

"Friends living in eastern states and in England who have never visited a ranch often have asked me about the mode of the cowboys' dress. The fringed 'chaps' are not worn in Texas as a usual thing. The romantic-looking cowboy with the white or black hairy 'chaps,' a long, dangerous-looking dagger and a large caliber revolver stuck in his belt is a thing of the past. He has passed with the gunman. It is against the law in Texas for any one to have any kind of a revolver or concealed weapon on his person, in his belt or in a holster attached to his saddle. It is also contrary to Texas laws to carry a knife more than six inches long. The laws pertaining to the sale of intoxicating liquors also are strict, so that now Texas is just as civilized as any other state."

BLACK CROW IS A BIG RIVER

Tributary of Yukon Found to Be Hundreds of Miles Long—New Outlet to Northern Canada.

Ottawa, Ontario.—A big river has been discovered in Canada. It is new in the sense that no one had any conception of its extent.

The Porcupine river is a tributary of the Yukon. It has a tributary known as the Black Crow. Until a month or so ago no one believed that the Black Crow was more than twenty or thirty miles long. It is now known to be hundreds of miles long.

The discoverers are the surveyors delineating the international boundary in the far north. The last word received from them was that they had traversed three hundred miles of the Black Crow. Access to the Arctic ocean will be rendered much easier from the northern portion of Canadian territory.

Old-Time Consumption Cure.

London.—The publication of the final report of the royal commission on tuberculosis recalls the elaborate "cure" for consumption in the past. There is the French "cure," for instance, which Sterne survived. Sterne was taken ill in Paris and the best medical advice was sought. The verdict was consumption. And the prescription proved worse than the malady. First of all, a cockerel had to be procured to be flogged alive and pounded in a mortar. This executed, the result was boiled together with poppy seeds, and to the broth thus spoiled a crawfish was added. Moreover, it was absolutely necessary that it should be a male crawfish, otherwise the doctor would not guarantee the "cure." And Sterne took his gruel like an Englishman and still lived on!

The October Woman's Home Companion.

The October Woman's Home Companion contains the first chapter of a new serial, "The Poor Lady," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman. It is a story of modern American life, and is chiefly concerned with two women—one, an ambitious and unscrupulous wife; the other, fine, high minded and womanly.

In the same number a well known financial authority writes an article of interest and importance to every woman. He describes the snares set by dishonest business concerns to catch women investors, and tells many stories of real life illustrating his points.

Other notable articles are: "Experiments in Spending," "The Girlhood of Madame Schumann Heink," "The Moving Picture Show," "Money Making at Home," and "Women Painters of America."

On the practical side the October Companion is of special value. Its great fashion and household departments are unusually full of useful suggestions and entertaining reading.

Christmas Seal Has Been Given Approval.

The sale of Red Cross Christmas seal this year will be carried on along broader lines and will be larger and more comprehensive than ever before, is the information given out by the National Anti-Tuberculosis Association. This bulletin of the National Association states further that the order of Postmaster General prohibiting certain stamps and seals does not apply at all in case of the Christmas seal. The seal this year has been definitely approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

The new seal will depict a very pretty winter scene. In the upper left hand corner will appear a small red cross. The entire design is inclosed with a heavy red circle. The year is expressed in Roman numerals and the only other words are "American Red Cross, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year." The corners of the seal are in white, thus giving the effect of a circular seal when affixed to letters and packages.

The only prohibition in the use of the Red Cross seal this year is that they must not be used on the face of letters or packages, but must be placed elsewhere than on the face, in any quantities.

Wanted. Canvassing agents at once for the sale of "Compendium of Everyday Wants," the book of general necessity, price $1.50; also for "The Devil's Bride," a wonderful religious allegory, price $1.00. Either outfit sent postpaid for ten cents. Fifty per cent commission to agents. Big sellers. Address A. B. KUHLMAN, Publisher, 136 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

Would Change Sleeping Position. A French doctor, M. V. Fischer, advocates a complete reversal of the present method of making up beds. You must have your head on a level with, or lower, than your feet. If pillows are to be used they must be under the feet instead of the head. The result, he claims, will be amazing, being a sure cure for insomnia as well as a preventive of nightmare.

Fashion Note. Ladies who are interested in the subject may take a trip to Washington and examine in the Bureau of Manufactures samples of the wood which the African Angoche belles use for a face stain and paste, which have been sent over here by our vice-consul at Lourenco Marquez in the interest of American beauty.

Immense Bird's Eggs. The largest known bird's egg is that of the extinct aepyornis of Madagascar, of which the museum of New York has now a specimen. It has a capacity of two gallons, measures 26 inches round the middle, and the shell is one-eighth of an inch thick. The largest egg of a living bird is that of the ostrich, which is equal to about thirty-six hens' eggs.

No Room for Improvement. It was about 1720, at Amsterdam, that Fahrenheit made his first thermometer, which has served as a model ever since.

Test That Failed.

Jean is a very matter-of-fact tot of three summers. Her mother one day, while holding in her arms the wee baby sister, who was very delicate, remarked: "Dear me, she looks so frail a breath would blow her away." Jean, taking a long breath, puffed it suddenly into the face of the little sister, and, stepping back, waited a moment in silence. Then in a disappointed tone she said: "Well, why don't you go?"

Dignified Rebuke.

Philip of Macedonia, after the battle of Chaeronea, where he defeated the Greeks, sent a boasting and insolent letter to the King of Sparta. Archidamus, the king, sent this caustic rejoinder: "If thou wilt measure thy shadow, thou wilt find that it hath not increased in size since thy victory."

For several years there has been a law forbidding the running of bulls loose on the streets. This law has not been enforced for several years, but it does seem that it should now be enforced, as there are several such animals now at large.—Blackshear Times.
